1. A request for continued examination under 37 CFR 1.114, including the fee set forth in 37 CFR 1.17(e), was filed in this application after allowance or after an Office action under Ex Parte Quayle, 25 USPQ 74, 453 O.G. 213 (Comm'r Pat. 1935). Since this application is eligible for continued examination under 37 CFR 1.114, and the fee set forth in 37 CFR 1.17(e) has been timely paid, prosecution in this application has been reopened pursuant to 37 CFR 1.114. Applicant's submission filed on July 1, 2005 has been entered.

2. Prosecution on the merits of this application is reopened on claims 19-25 considered unpatentable for the reasons indicated below:

3. Claims 19-25 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 112, first paragraph, as failing to comply with the written description requirement. The claim(s) contains subject matter which was not described in the specification in such a way as to reasonably convey to one skilled in the relevant art that the inventor(s), at the time the application was filed, had possession of the claimed invention.

4. Claim 19, part c is not described in the specification as filed because only small particles are removed via the dip leg, not "any undissolved portion".

5. Claims 19-25 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 112, second paragraph, as being indefinite for failing to particularly point out and distinctly claim the subject matter which applicant regards as the invention.

In claim 19, part A), "can be continuously passed" is unclear—are means or other structure for continuously passing intended? Does this mean the method steps of passing are continuous or not? In claim 19, part C), "small" is unclear because it is a relative term lacking comparative basis. In claim 19, part C), "particles" should be "particle" (second occurrence).

6. The nonstatutory double patenting rejection is based on a judicially created doctrine grounded in public policy (a policy reflected in the statute) so as to prevent the unjustified or improper timewise extension of the "right to exclude" granted by a patent and to prevent possible harassment by multiple assignees. See In re Goodman, 11 F.3d 1046, 29 USPQ2d 2010 (Fed. Cir. 1993); In re Longi, 759 F.2d 887, 225 USPQ 645 (Fed. Cir. 1985); In re Van Ornum, 686 F.2d 937, 214 USPQ 761 (CCPA 1982); In re Vogel, 422 F.2d 438, 164 USPQ 619 (CCPA 1970); and In re Thorington, 418 F.2d 528, 163 USPQ 644 (CCPA 1969).

A timely filed terminal disclaimer in compliance with 37 CFR 1.321(c) may be used to overcome an actual or provisional rejection based on a nonstatutory double patenting ground provided the conflicting application or patent is shown to be commonly owned with this application. See 37 CFR 1.130(b).

Effective January 1, 1994, a registered attorney or agent of record may sign a terminal disclaimer. A terminal disclaimer signed by the assignee must fully comply with 37 CFR 3.73(b).

7. Claim 19-25 are rejected under the judicially created doctrine of obviousness-type double patenting as being unpatentable over claims 1, 3 of U.S. Patent No. 6799123. Although the conflicting claims are not identical, they are not patentably distinct from each other because the instant limitations to claim 19 are encompassed by the limitations of claims 1 and 3 of the patent. Claims 20-25 are obvious in that they are limitations to conventional dissolution testing parameters.

8. The following is a quotation of 35 U.S.C. 103(a) which forms the basis for all obviousness rejections set forth in this Office action:

(a) A patent may not be obtained though the invention is not identically disclosed or described as set forth in section 102 of this title, if the differences between the subject matter sought to be patented and the prior art are such that the subject matter as a whole would have been obvious at the time the invention was made to a person having ordinary skill in the art to which said subject matter pertains. Patentability shall not be negated by the manner in which the invention was made.

Art Unit: 1743

9. The factual inquiries set forth in Graham v. John Deere Co., 383 U.S. 1, 148 USPQ 459 (1966), that are applied for establishing a background for determining obviousness under 35 U.S.C. 103(a) are summarized as follows:

1. Determining the scope and contents of the prior art.
2. Ascertaining the differences between the prior art and the claims at issue.
3. Resolving the level of ordinary skill in the pertinent art.
4. Considering objective evidence present in the application indicating obviousness or nonobviousness.

10. Claims 19-25 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 103(a) as being unpatentable over Compton et al.

Compton teaches a method for sampling a dissolution vessel having a stirrer and temperature control (col. 2, lines 41-48). A sample is withdrawn via needle 20 and particles are removed from the vessel and trapped in filter 32. Particle-free sample passes through the filter and is analyzed (col. 4, line 6-12).

Compton fails to explicitly teach passing release medium through the cell or adding a test sample.

It would have been obvious to provide release medium and sample in the dissolution vessel in order to test the sample for dissolution as disclosed. Note that the medium "passes through" because it is supplied and withdrawn. With respect to claim 25, it would have been obvious to optimize the size of the needle to remove desired volumes at desired rates. Note further that the instant claims do not preclude back-flushing the particles into the dissolution cell or otherwise distinguish over Compton.
